"The Treasury Department announces that it is of prime importance that each county reach this quota in E bonds. Therefore we are appealing to all individuals in the county to make every effort to purchase extra E bonds in order to reach our goal."

BRONZE STAR FOR LT. ZINN

(Special to The Times)

First Lieutenant John B. Zinn, son of Dr. and Mrs. John B. Zinn, West Broadway, attached to the 399th Infantry of the Seventh Army, was one of a group of officers and men of the 100th Division to receive the Bronze Star medal in ceremonies held since V-E Day. Forty-six Pennsylvanians men shared in the awards for action during campaigns in France, Alsace and Germany.

Bronze stars are awarded for heroic achievement in action or for meritorious service.

The Century Division received its first rest after seven months of continuous front line fighting when the unconditional surrender of Germany was announced.

Its string of battles on the Western front includes the cracking of the German winter defensive line in the lower Vosges mountains near Raon l'Etape, France, last November; storming and capturing the huge French fortress town of Bitcher on the Maginot line for the first time that the citadel had ever fallen to an attacking force in its 200-year history; staying off the assault of three German divisions—including the veteran 17th SS Division—during the New Year's Eve Nazi counteroffensive on the Seventh Army front; assisting in clearing the huge Saarland pocket between the U. S. Third and Seventh Armies in March, by racing 60 miles in two days from Zweibrücken to Ludwigs-haven on the Rhine; and the capture of the large German rail center of Heilbronn after a bitter nine-day battle—termed the most fanatical of the Germans anywhere east of the Rhine.

Emmitsburgian In Accident Wednesday

An Emmitsburg motorist escaped with head injuries about 7:30 o'clock Wednesday morning when the automobile he was operating left the Walkersville road, about mid-way between Walkersville and the Ceresville intersection, clipped off a telephone pole, hit a rolled section of snow fence and stopped against another fence.

The motorist was identified by Trooper Richard Myers as Peyton Riley, of Emmitsburg. He was removed to a physician's office for treatment of his injuries, which were described as not serious, and was then able to return to his home.

Riley was reported to have stated that as his car was rounding a curve, going toward Frederick, something happened to the steering wheel and the sedan left the right side of the road and struck the pole, snapping it. The rolled section of snow fence was reported to have been knocked into a nearby field, but not damaged to any extent. The automobile, considerably damaged, had to be towed away from the scene. No charges were preferred.

Yanks Bluff Gestapo Agents With Airline To Stockholm

By HENRY B. JAMESON London, June 22 (AP)—More than 3,000 important passengers were flown out of neutral Sweden during the last year of the European war by the U. S. Army's "secret airline" which operated under the noses of the Germans.

It was one of the strangest military operations of the war and the Germans employed every trick they knew to stop it, but without avail.

Some secrets of this mysterious pseudo-civil airline, which now has blossomed into a full-fledged military line between Scotland and Sweden, were revealed today by Brig. Gen. Earl S. Hoag, commander of the European division of the Air Transport Command, the agency designated to handle the job. Most of the flying had been scheduled purposely in bad weather.

German armed with a rocket launcher and an automatic weapon, thus allowing Yankee columns to pass undetected through enemy-held territory.

Unable To Use Own Gun The citation, which was signed by the commander of the 84th (Rail-splitter) division, follows:

"While acting as rear guard security for a marching column, Pfc. Epley discovered a German soldier armed with a rocket launcher and automatic weapon. Realizing the danger to an approaching motor column, Pfc. Epley silently and swiftly captured the enemy soldier after a hand-to-hand encounter being unable to use his weapon due to the possibility of alerting other hostile troops in the area. "The daring, rapid action initiative and unswerving devotion to duty displayed by Pfc. Epley enabled the column to pass undetected through enemy positions and are in accordance with the finest traditions of the military service of the United States."

Pfc. Epley is a graduate of Gettysburg high school in the class of 1942. Before entering service May 19, 1944, he was employed by C. E. Wolf at Granite warehouse. He received his basic training at Fort McClellan, Ala. and went overseas last October.

Yanks Seek Snipers In Charred Hills On Island Of Okinawa

By ROBBIN COONS

Guam, June 22 (AP)—American mop-up patrols began the grueling job today of annihilating Japanese sniper nests on Okinawa before the next big Allied invasion is staged from the newly-won island base, 325 miles south of Japan.

Tokyo radio reported Premier Kantaro Suzuki warned his cabinet an invasion of Japan was impending and said the people of Kyushu, home island nearest Okinawa, were prepared for an invasion, convinced "the enemy will certainly land" there.

Pacific Fleet headquarters made no bones about the fact that Okinawa has become a forward staging base from which bomber and fighter planes can cover assault waves striking at Japan or China or both. An official memorandum from Adm. Chester W. Nimitz' headquarters said it is also an American naval anchorage, in the center of waters formerly patrolled by the Mikado's imperial fleet.

4,000 Japanese Surrender

Clean-up squads of marines and infantrymen hunted over the charred hills of Southern Okinawa with flamethrowers, rifles and demolition charges, to add to the 90,401 enemy dead. Japanese helped by mass suicides in their caves, or drowning in the surf. The air was permeated with the stench of death.

Other Yanks, sent out to keep U. S. casualties from mounting too far above the record figure of 36,588 pleaded through tank-borne loudspeakers for Nipponese to crawl out of their holes and surrender. Four thousand already have.

All figures—Japanese dead, American casualties, Nipponese prisoners—were records for any island taken in the drive which has carried Admiral Nimitz' forces from Pearl Harbor to the doorstep of Japan. And Okinawa was the greatest prize.

In China

By SPENCER MOOSA Chungking, June 22 (AP) — Chinese troops have attacked the former American air field on the southern outskirts of Luichow, abandoned to the Japanese seven months ago, and have inflicted considerable casualties on the enemy, the Chinese high command announced today.

A Chinese army spokesman declared that the bulk of the Japanese forces at Luichow had withdrawn northeastward to Kweilin, another former American air base city.

The spokesman said only 1,000 to 2,000 enemy troops were left behind to defend Luichow, whose occupation by Chinese forces was predicted in the "near future."

Maj. Gen. Robert B. McClure's headquarters at Kunming said that according to unconfirmed reports the city of Luichow, within three miles of the airfield, was so closely invested that its occupation might be a matter of hours. These reports said the city was burning and the airfield had been destroyed.

McClure's headquarters said the Chinese push to within three miles of Luichow, as reported by official Chinese sources, represented an advance during the past seven days of 44 miles east from Ishan and about 20 northeast from the Tatang direction. The headquarters statement added that Chinese forces were attacking Japanese positions on the approaches to Piansing, on the highway 11 miles from the Indo-China frontier.

There will be a meeting at the offices of the Adams County Chapter of the American Red Cross Monday night at 8 o'clock for the purpose of organizing a county-wide committee on Life Saving and Water Safety, to promote swimming instruction in the county, Miss Margaret McMillan, executive secretary of the chapter, announced today.

All residents of the county are urged to attend, Miss McMillan said, and the program has the endorsement of the office of the Superintendent of County Schools. Dr. Robert Bream, assistant superintendent, has expressed his personal interest and pointed out the necessity of swimming instruction to reduce the hazard of summer water sports. Lack of training and ignorance of the rules of water safety are, he pointed out, the chief dangers.

May Be Instructors Tentative plans to secure the facilities for swimming instruction have been made, and there are instructors available, Miss McMillan said, but definite action depends upon the formation of a committee to put the plan into action.

Miss McMillan also pointed out that the facilities of the Red Cross will make materials available from national headquarters and that examinations sponsored by the Red Cross make those who take advanced instruction eligible for positions as instructors and life guards at schools, camps and public pools.

The offerings received at the union services are being turned over to the Gettysburg playground association.

This schedule was announced for July services: July 1, Trinity Evangelical and Reformed church; July 8, Church of the Brethren; July 13, St. James Lutheran church; July 22, Christ Lutheran church, and July 29, A.M.E. Zion church.

MACHINERY IS PREPARED FOR WORLD PEACE

By J. M. ROBERTS, Jr.
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

Stars and Stripes in Paris, in an imaginary letter from a dead soldier, takes General Patton to task for telling a group of children they will be the soldiers of the next war.

General Eisenhower has added his voice to those who are advocating peace-time military training in the United States.

Russia, expected to announce relaxation of war-time living restrictions, at the same time accelerates military training and says, "the war in Europe is over but the military and political schooling and the training of fighting reserves does not cease for a moment."

"It's no fun to die x x x" says the Stars and Stripes letter. "It's particularly no fun when the General you followed turns right around to your homefolks a few weeks later and tells them you died in vain. x x x Leave the peace to those who are working their hearts out to make it stick. Leave them alone—for a little while, anyway. And for God's sake stay out of my little brother's Sunday school class. He still thinks I died to make a better world for him."

Did Not Die In Vain

Well, the soldier didn't die in vain, and the generals are not intending to say he did.

At San Francisco, for the first time in history, all of the world's great powers, all its dominant forces, are arrayed for peace. The flaws in the United Nations Charter are prominent. To some they are disheartening. But it still represents the greatest step yet taken toward universal security. It does provide machinery by which the nations can have peace if they will to do so.

It represents something worth fighting for.

But the nations have not yet said that war will no longer be permitted. They have not agreed that their collective strength will be applied automatically against any one of them which first resorts to force. Local communities have established constabularies so that each law-abiding home no longer needs a rifle behind the door or a pistol in the bureau drawer. The world, as yet, has no such constabulary. Pending that, the generals who are hired and trained to look after the security of their countries are not necessarily out of step because they seek immediate insurance. They seek to preserve the step forward which the soldier has taken while civilian arrangements catch up.

KILL MOVE TO CURB OPA LIFE

Washington, June 22 (AP)—The House today defeated a Republican-sponsored effort to hold OPA's new lease on life to six months instead of one year. The vote was 177 to 126.

The vote for a full year's extension came after Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.), walked into the House well and appealed to the membership not to destroy OPA. Such action, he said, would bring inflation "in which many people won't have anything to eat and wear."

"This is a confusing and destructive amendment," Rayburn declared of the six month limitation proposal.

An effort to kill legislation prolonging the life of wartime price and rationing controls was defeated overwhelmingly by the House today on a voice vote.

The action came on an amendment by Rep. Hoffman (R-Mich.), to strike out the enacting clause of the OPA extension bill. He said "we should cut OPA's head off and start over again."

A roar of "no" defeated the proposal. Only a scattering of voices were heard in its support.

GENERAL "IKE" IS HOME TODAY

Abilene, Kas., June 22 (AP)—Ike is home today.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, commander of the victorious Allied armies, who has been feted around the world, is back with his own people and all pomp and ceremony has been abandoned.

It was "Hello Bill" and "Hello Bud" to his friends as the general stepped from the train last night and shook hands with the 12 members of the reception committee. He called them all by name.

This is the long-anticipated day for Abilene and the citizens have prepared a typically Kansas tribute. Thoughtfully, the committee arranged no formal appearances for the general until the parade at 10 a. m. today so that he might spend as much time as possible with his family, including his 83-year-old mother and his four brothers.

Ike will get to see the parade, too, and it will bring memories to him for it will be a pageant of the growth of the city and the story of his own life.

Leaves From Diary Of War Correspondent

By GEORGE TUCKER
(Substituting for Hal Boyle)

Wiesbaden, Germany, (AP)—A small group of highly specialized United States Army officers representing all branches of the service had the important task of questioning all military and political prisoners as they fall into Allied hands.

In a country such as Germany is now, with communications ruined, cities leveled and travel greatly restricted, the officers work in teams known as mobile field interrogation units. The simplified name is MAFIU.

Order of Questioning
The identity of the prisoner determines which units have priority. Goering, as chief of the German air force, first was handed over to the air prisoner of war interrogation detachment who cross-examined him on every phase of the Luftwaffe, offensively and defensively, and also on his knowledge of Allied airpower. Later he was questioned by officers interested in the political side of Goering's experiences as one of the members of Hitler's inner circle.

Poison Gas Specialist
When Brigadier Ferdinand Flury came into Allied custody, he was interrogated by representatives of the board of chemical warfare. Flury, a well known toxicologist of Wurzburg university, served as medical advisor of the German chemical warfare board. His title of brigadier was honorary and implied no military authority.

However, he is an authority on all types of poisons and since large quantities of a new poison gas known as "green ring three" were discovered in underground vaults after the German army collapsed, our chemical experts were extremely anxious to question him.

Whether Flury satisfied their curiosity remains a "top secret" matter.

Tank Expert
When General Fritz Bayerlein surrendered the remnant of his tank corps in the Ruhr April 16 he was questioned at great length by officers interested in armored vehicles and mobile warfare.

Bayerlein was a frank commentator and his record on both African and European battlefields led American officers to describe him in their official reports as "a soldier's soldier."

SAYS FREE PRESS IS WORLD NEED

Tamiment, Pa., June 22 (AP)—Claude A. Jagger, assistant general manager of The Associated Press, said today the world "needs as never before free newspapers and news distributing agencies devoted to presenting the news as objectively and fairly as energy and good faith can make it."

"This does not mean that controversy should be suppressed," he said in a speech prepared for the second session of the 11th annual conference of the Tamiment social and economic institute.

"It is a basic principle of our civilization that truth is reached through free association of information and ideas.

"Progress is promoted and civilization enriched by difference, so long as an atmosphere of understanding and tolerance is maintained."

Declaring there could be little hope for a durable world order "without a tremendous increase in understanding and tolerance between the peoples of the world," Jagger said:

"World understanding cannot be achieved by propaganda. In the first place, propaganda is more effective in its appeal to emotions than to reason so that by its very nature, it is more likely to promote dissension than understanding. In the second place men have grown sensitive to propaganda efforts, and not only do not believe it, they resent it."

"Of all human rights, none is more important or basic than the 'right to know,'" Jagger said.

President Goes Sightseeing Again

Olympia, Wash., June 22 (AP)—President Truman, with nothing official to do until Monday, resumed the role of a sightseer again today.

Having tried his hand at salmon fishing, with no great success, he decided to take another automobile tour, this time to snow-capped Mount Rainier.

He and his official party, including Gov. Mon C. Wallgren, set 10 a. m. (PWT) as the departing hour and did not plan to return to the executive mansion here until 5 p. m.

"I don't believe there will be any news from the President for a while now," Press Secretary Charles G. Ross told reporters.

BABE'S BODY FOUND
Glenwillard, Pa., June 22 (AP)—Children playing along the Ohio river near here yesterday found a raft bearing the body of a dead baby, floating downstream. Allegheny county detectives said they could not determine whether the child had died by violence.

PATTON SCORED FOR ADDRESS TO CHURCH CLASS

Hamilton, Mass., June 22 (AP)—Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., asserted today that he thought it was "stupid to run the risk of not being prepared for another war."

The commander of the Third Army, commenting on an imaginary letter from "one of the dead" in Stars and Stripes, U. S. Army newspaper, which criticized him for telling children of a Sunday school class that they would be the soldiers and nurses of the next war, declared:

"Having been through two World Wars and having experienced the anguish of commanding men who were wounded or killed due to lack of training, I think that it is stupid to run the risk of not being adequately prepared for another war because you do not stop fires by abolishing the fire department."

"Be Ready For War"
"And you do not stop wars by being unprepared for them. The best way to maintain peace which naturally I want more than anyone else, having seen how bad war is, is to be ready for war."

"I don't want people to get the idea that I'm a war monger," Patton added. "I think it's terribly foolish not to be prepared, and I think young people who may have to carry on in another war, should know that many men were wounded or killed, due to lack of preparedness, in this war."

Patton is spending a brief vacation at his summer home.

Paris, June 22 (AP)—The U. S. Army Newspaper Stars and Stripes published today an imaginary letter from "One of the Dead" who served under Gen. Patton's command, taking the General to task for telling children in a Sunday school class they would be the soldiers and nurses of the next war.

The article, written by an army captain who signed only the initials J.C.B., begged Gen. Patton to "just sort of hold your tongue at least until after that San Francisco Conference."

"Just stay a soldier," the letter said. "Leave the peace up to those who are working their hearts out to make it stick."

(Gen. Patton, spending his leave at his farm in Hamilton, Massachusetts, was not available there last night for comment.)

Predicts War
(Patton, in his address to the Sunday school children of the Episcopal Church of Our Saviour in San Gabriel, Calif., June 10, told them "You children here, whether you like it or not, are the soldiers and nurses of the next war. There will be war again, in my opinion, because there have always been such things.")

The letter:
"Dear General Patton:
"I am one of 30,000 men who died under your command on our march across Europe. Last week you told a Sunday school class:

"You children are the soldiers and nurses of the next war."
"Another war—not a hundred years from now but right around the corner! I don't know what the other 29,999 boys did but I turned over in my grave, General, and the dirt above me moved because it isn't packed hard yet."

"Hold Your Tongue"
"Please don't tell us that, General—not just now. And don't say it again to our families. It's too soon for them to understand. And don't say it to the world at a time when all the decent nations in it are working to build a peace of some kind."

"Couldn't you just sort of hold your tongue at least until after that San Francisco Conference? A lot of people—smart people, too—are pretty hopeful about the way things are going out there."

"On the night before you spoke to that Sunday school class you cried on the platform before thousands of people. You said:

"It's no fun to say to men you love, 'go out and die.'"

"No Fun To Die"

"We know that was no fun for you. It's no fun to die either. It's particularly no fun when the General you followed turns right around to your home-folks a few weeks later and tells them you died in vain."

"Yes, we died when you told us to die. We tried to do everything you asked of us because we thought of you as a great soldier. We still do. But may we now, with all due respect, ask one little favor in return?"

"Just stay a soldier. Leave the peace to those who are working their hearts out to make it stick. Leave them alone—for a little while anyway. And for God's sake stay out of my little brother's Sunday school class. He still thinks I died to make a better world for him."

"Signed, Private 'X'."

ISSUES APPEAL FOR TIN CANS

An appeal to housewives of Adams county to prepare and save all tin cans for war salvage collections was made today by Dr. Eugene Elgin, chairman of the Salvage committee of the Adams County Council of Defense.

"Even during the spring and summer months when more fresh vegetables and fruits are available, we cannot afford to throw away a single tin can," he said. "The need for tin by our military forces is greater today than at any time since the beginning of the war for the reason that the nation's stockpile of tin has nearly reached the vanishing point, and we are not able to import nearly enough to meet current military needs."

"With the redeployment of our troops from Europe to the Pacific greater amounts of tin are needed to supply canned rations, syrettes, blood plasma containers, ammunition boxes, sea markers, blanket containers and many other things to our fighting men."

"Pennsylvania's tin can collections for the most part have failed to keep pace with its other salvage activities, and today tin looms as the most precious of all metals for war production purposes."

"For a time, there was some difficulty in obtaining can openers and that was offered as an excuse by some for not opening both ends of the used cans and flattening them for war salvage. At the present time, however, there is a large supply of can openers in the hardware and variety stores."

"We ask the housewives to prepare and save their cans, and we guarantee they will be collected and sent to war."

PICK UNITS FOR JAP BOMBINGS

Washington, June 22 (AP)—The strategic bombing of Japan will be carried out by two separate heavy bombardment forces, the 20th and the 8th.

This was disclosed Thursday in a news conference with Lt. Gen. James H. Doolittle, chief of the 8th air force which now is being redeployed from Europe to the Pacific area.

In answer to a question about the general setup, Doolittle said: "The 8th will be under my command; the directives will come from the joint chiefs of staff."

This will parallel operations of the 20th air force, commanded by Gen. H. H. Arnold, with Lt. Gen. Barney Giles the deputy commander in the Pacific.

The 21st Bomber command (a part of the 20th air force), based on Saipan, has been conducting the attacks on the Japanese home islands. The 20th is directed from Washington and the strategy is determined by the joint chiefs of staff here.

IT'S OKAY WITH YANKEE PILOTS

(By the Associated Press)
The Japanese home affairs ministry has decided that Nippon built its cities too large and henceforth there shall be none on the islands with more than 3,000,000 population.

(Eds note: This project has the earnest cooperation of U. S. Superfortresses, which for some time have been laboring with might, main and fire bombs to get Tokyo's population down to more seemly proportions—also Osaka's which likewise is over three million.)

A Tokyo radio commentator said it was to be hoped that the program for reducing the population of cities would be accomplished in the "not-too-distant future."

(In view of what American air generals have promised the Japanese in the way of bigger and better air raids, the commentator said a mouthful.)

Unfortunately, said radio Tokyo, most houses still will have to be made of wood when Japan gets around to rebuilding because wood happens to be the most plentiful material available.

(Superfortress bombardiers have no quarrel with wood. They say it makes far more adequate fires than reinforced concrete.)

WAR CASUALTIES FOR U. S. MOUNT

Washington, June 22 (AP)—United States battle casualties in World War 2 now total 1,023,453, an increase of 6,356 from those reported a week ago.

The Army casualties reported Thursday represented the period extending through the greater part of May and the increase apparently represented mainly Pacific action.

Of the total, 903,701 are Army casualties and 119,752 Navy.

Army casualties reported this week and a week ago follow:

Killed 189,294 and 187,369; wounded 560,836 and 558,611; missing 39,956 and 42,710; prisoners (before liberations) 113,615 and 111,262.

The Navy figures:

Killed 45,417 and 44,769; wounded 59,196 and 57,402; missing 10,908 and 10,736; prisoners 4,231 and 4,238.

PLANE PLANTS, NAVAL ARSENAL RAIDED BY B29S

By LEIF ERICKSON
Guam, June 22 (AP)—Four hundred fifty B-29s today attacked Japan's last large naval arsenal and five big aircraft factories with 3,000 tons of demolition bombs in a precision raid made visually from medium altitude in clear weather.

Seven other small industrial targets were fire-raided Monday and Wednesday.

Japan's two largest arsenals, Osaka and Hiro, previously were virtually destroyed. The Kure plant, blasted today, manufactured guns up to 16 inches, projectiles, fuses, propellants and torpedoes. It covered approximately 11,000,000 square feet.

The other five targets were the Mitsubishi and Kawasaki aircraft plants at Kawanishigahara, 20 miles north of Nagoya; Kawanishi aircraft plant at Himeji and the Kawasaki aircraft plant at Akashi, both in the Kobe area, and the Mitsubishi-Mishima aircraft factory at Tamashima, 90 miles west of Kobe.

A Japanese communiqué claimed 26 of the giant raiders were shot down or damaged.

B-29s already have destroyed or damaged 112 square miles of Japanese urban industrial areas, 21st bomber command headquarters announced while today's raids were in progress. Recent B-29 attacks on seven smaller industrial cities—all made with incendiary bombs earlier this week—damaged more than nine square miles of war factory areas.

Osaka, Japan's second largest city and its suburb, Amagasaki, suffered 2.7 square miles of new damage in a June 15 fire raid, increasing total damaged areas there to 16.75 square miles. This represents 26 per cent of Osaka's built-up areas and 11 per cent of Amagasaki's.

Incendiary bombs, aimed at hundreds of small Japanese home industries, on that raid virtually wiped out the major Amagasaki object—the Sumitomo Kanazaki propeller plant, which was about 90 per cent destroyed or damaged.

Large targets damaged included the Osaka arsenal, Mitsubishi copper refinery, Fuguda light airplane company, Miraguchi gear works, Osaka railroad station, Furukawa electric company, a munition mill and an unidentified industry.

Disguised Boat Leads To PW Capture

Oil City, Pa., June 22 (AP)—C. A. Yeager, oil pumper, couldn't figure why the man over on the other side of the Allegheny river at Reno wanted to paint a perfectly good white boat blue.

So he crossed the river yesterday to ask the reason. To his surprise the man fled over a hill.

Yeager summoned Oil City police to the spot, three miles south of town, where they arrested two men. The captives readily admitted they were Anton Pinda, 18, and Erich Povolny, 19, who escaped from a German prisoner of war camp at Marienville, McKean County, 45 miles away, a week before.

The Nazis were wearing civilian clothes and were stewing a chicken when captured. Both looked well-fed.

Summer Care Of Rhubarb

Rhubarb cutting, particularly from young and less thrifty clumps, should cease by the last of June or in early July. Thereafter all clumps should be liberally fed to permit them to store an ample supply of plant food in the roots to promote the next year's growth. This principle of late summer growth and bulbous plants by which a period of late summer growth is reserved for storage of vigor for the following year is demonstrated by peonies, dahlias, the so-called Dutch bulbs and even by such root crops as potatoes.

There are, in fact, four main steps in successful rhubarb culture which every gardener should follow—(1) Cease harvesting stalks by early July; (2) Feed the clumps freely for the remainder of the growing season; (3) Keep seed stalks removed to prevent wastage of plant vigor; and (4) Mulch over winter with coarse manure and feed again in late winter or early spring.

Rhubarb is the heaviest feeder of all garden crops. And as soon as cutting ceases it demands a maximum of available nourishment to sustain growth until autumn. Well rotted manure and a complete fertilizer are recommended. Side dressing with nitrate of soda is advisable after growth resumes in the spring.

Irrigation Pays

Of course, all-summer cultivation is necessary to keep weeds removed, but deep cultivation is never wise. A thorough soaking of the soil once a week in dry weather pays handsome dividends in clump thrift.

Hoe gardeners who desire a few late July and August rhubarb pies may grow a clump or two extra which they are willing to sacrifice and then plan special feeding over winter and the next spring to restore their health. The same idea can be employed where a few clumps are needed for winter forcing indoors. But the main planting intended for spring and early summer production should be protected from late cutting or other devastating practices.

Ornamental plant growers recognize the importance of guarding certain plants from seed pod formation. For example, to keep lilacs blooming over a long period it is necessary to gather faded blooms before they form seed pods. This same principle applies to rhubarb. If seed stalks are allowed to develop, the clumps are not only robbed of considerable strength, but the desired growth until frosts come is interrupted. Therefore, cut out rhubarb.

Profitable Crop

Rhubarb is among the most healthful crops of the garden. It thrives in any well drained, fertile loam where the rooting stratum is mellow and deep. All-day sunshine is required to promote early spring production. Soil should be prepared before winter to permit late winter or early spring planting.

There is a profitable market demand for well colored rhubarb in most town and city grocery stores, with the supply far below consumer requirements. Due to its heavy yielding habits, rhubarb returns revenues exceeding all other vegetables when measured by soil space, planting costs and labor of care and harvest. It is attacked by no widely destructive insect pests and suffers from no troublesome diseases. It rightly belongs among the "must" crops of a well rounded home garden.

Readers who have not already obtained a copy of our rhubarb planting instructions may have this useful information free on request to the editor.

8 Colts To Enter Santa Anita Derby

Arcadia, Calif., June 22 (AP)—The lineup for the $50,000 Santa Anita Derby was shrinking today, with indications that only eight colts would face the barrier tomorrow against the nation's top filly, Busher.

Sea Sovereign, Charles S. Howard's rapidly improving son of the great Seabiscuit, was regarded as the chief threat to movie man Louis B. Mayer's Busher. The Mexican thunderbolt, Checkerhall, also was held in high favor on the basis of his races in Mexico City last winter.

Already winner of $100,000, Busher would pick up $38,100, minus trainer and groom's awards, by capturing the Derby.

Louisa May Alcott, famous as an author, also was a nurse in a federal hospital during the Civil War.

Just Folks

FRIENDSHIP LIMITED

How difficult on earth, and grim.

If we were told

No friend are we to make save him

Whose views we hold.

No friend, however brave or kind!

Of different creed!

No good to one to find

Who disagreed!

No friend of alien race or hue

Or faith or prayer!

Just of our own small group, a few.

Our lives to share!

Charged thus, suppose in desperate need,

Alone, afraid,

One came to us, of different creed.

And offered aid,

What should we do, instructed so?

Unto life's end

Treat him who saved us as a foe

Or call him friend?

Today's Talk

RONNIE

Many years ago a friend told me of a young girl confined to a sanitarium, very, very ill, and asked me to write to her and to send these talks to her, as she had been a reader of them before becoming ill. I did so gladly, and wrote cheering letters to her and sent her an occasional book. She was so appreciative. She had operation after operation. At long intervals she could not move in her bed.

Now, after five years, she writes that she is to have complete freedom, and for the first time in five long years she was permitted to go out into the open air. "Words fail me," she has just written, "in trying to express to you the wonderful feeling I have, being able to be outdoors in the pure air and sun." Ronnie's letter made me think of the little girl described in Browning's "Pippa Passes," who worked in a silk mill and had only one day vacation in the year, and she took that to romp in the sunlight, to drink in every drop of beauty about her, and to spend the few brief hours in song.

Not until we are deprived of the simplest things in life do we come to realize how very important and wonderful they are. Imagine our interest in the moon or the starry heavens if they only appeared once a year! No one would go to bed on those nights. There would be all-night celebrations, like Christmas, and we would look forward to such nights.

Well, about Ronnie. She wrote me time and again and told me of her progress, but never once a complaint or a whimper. Always hopeful, always trustful in the great God, and always believing that some day she would be entirely well. And so now the day has come and soon her soldier boy will return from Europe, and the two together will build a happy nest of their own. I, for one, shall wish them both a life of happiness and usefulness.

The example of Ronnie is inspiring. There are others, just like her, scattered all over this land. Shut-ins, who never complain, but who emphasize the power of faith and the deathlessness of courage. What a lesson to us, who are daily in the enjoyment of so much!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Color"

Commissioner Farley pointed out that the public and the commission both were disappointed at the unsatisfactory ending of the bout and the public probably never would recognize Schmeling as champion until he had defeated the legitimate contender and suggested that the boxers get together and fight again before the end of the summer.

The planes also staged a series of maneuvers which thrilled the crowd.

The six members of the crew were loud in their praise of the local airport, its pilot, Paul Charles, its planes and the layout of the place.

EXPECT SENATE WILL RATIFY PEACE CHARTER

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
(Associated Press Diplomatic News Editor)

San Francisco, June 22 (AP)—The United States Senate, with power enough to promote or kill a United Nations peace organization, will get a full report on the San Francisco conference next week from two of its members.

American delegates express confidence that the Senate will ratify the charter of the organization which they and representatives of 49 other nations have produced here in nine weeks of work.

But none would predict today that it would be done in time for President Truman to report it at the July Big-Three meeting at Berlin.

In fact, it appeared certain the Senate committee hearings, a preliminary to debate on ratification, could not begin until the second week in July when detailed reports of conference debates will have become available. These and interpretive statements on various points of the charter are considered essential to Senate discussion.

Senators To Report

Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) of the Senate Foreign Relations committee and Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.), both members of the American delegation, have arranged to leave here after President Truman addresses the closing session next Tuesday night.

Flying to Washington with the charter—unless Mr. Truman himself takes it back directly—Connally will make a report to Senate on Thursday. Vandenberg, who will travel with him, will then make a further report and state his own position as chairman of the Republican senatorial conference, on Friday.

In San Francisco, Vandenberg has taken care, even as an American delegate, to keep his position fluid so that if he did not approve the charter in its final form he would be at liberty to say so. However, now that it is finished, it is reported that he will become one of its most outspoken supporters.

Big Five Must Ratify

Senate ratification is regarded as the key to actual creation of the new international league. Unless all the big-five countries (the United States, Russia, Britain, China and France), ratify it along with a majority of the other nations, it will not become effective.

The last sections of the charter finally were approved by conference commissions yesterday.

The only things lacking now are formal approval of the document in a conference plenary session Monday and its signing by delegates of the 50 United Nations Monday afternoon and night.

Van Zeeland Is Favored By King

Brussels, June 22 (AP)—Paul van Zeeland, former prime minister and a staunch Royalist, appeared today to be King Leopold's most likely choice to attempt to form a new government.

But with Liberal, Socialist and Communist parties still hostile to the monarch's return, the immediate chances of success on Van Zeeland's part seemed slight.

Negotiations to form a new government which would support Leopold's return have proceeded in an atmosphere of secrecy, with only Catholics and Conservatives considered in the running. Van Zeeland is a Catholic, although he is not directly affiliated with any political party.

Robert Gillon, Liberal president of the Senate, predicted the week would pass without any new government being formed.

Admiral Royal Buried On Leyte

Manila, June 22 (AP)—Rear Adm. Forrest Bretton Royal who died at sea Monday of coronary thrombosis was buried in a Leyte cemetery Thursday.

Funeral services were held aboard his flagship with Adm. William F. Halsey, commander of the Third Fleet, and high Seventh Fleet officers attending.

Royal had just completed his assignment as commander of the Brunel bay assault group and was returning to base when stricken. His chief of staff, Navy Captain Paul F. Dugan, took temporary command of the assault group.

Vice Adm. Daniel E. Barbey, commander of the Seventh Amphibious Force and acting commander of the Seventh Fleet, paid tribute to Royal who served under him in leading assault groups into Leyte, Lingayen, Zamboanga and Tarakan.

From the beginning of 1941 through February, 1945, there were more than 6,500,000 marriages in the United States.

GUARDSMEN TO TRAIN AT GAP

Indiantown Gap, Pa., June 22 (AP)—More than 5,000 khaki-clad members of the Pennsylvania Guard open their two-week summer en- campment tomorrow at this huge military post.

"It's the first time since we've been organized that the Guard will train at one time," Brig. Gen. Mil- ton G. Baker, commander and super- intendent of Valley Forge Military academy, said today. "Some of our men are here already but all of them will be here tomorrow."

The general listed five regiments of infantry, quartermaster bat- talions, a regiment of engineers and 50 "Guard WACS" as the units who will arrive Saturday. The feminine Guard members, he said are really "company clerks."

"We have larger quarters than ever before," said the general. "Each regiment will have its own mess hall and own facilities."

General Baker said the aim of the encampment "is to perfect every soldier" in the Guard.

"The Guardsmen are as well equipped as the Army," he said. "We have motorized equipment and everything needed to help us im- prove our worth as the internal se- curity force of Pennsylvania."

Troop C of the First Cavalry Squadron, Adams county's unit of the Guard will leave the state armory here Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock for Indiantown Gap. They will travel in their own motorized units.

Smokeless Heat Seen After War

Pittsburgh, June 22 (AP)—Smoke- less locomotives to haul our trains and smokeless stoves to heat our homes were postwar predictions of E. R. Kaiser, assistant director of re- search for Bituminous Coal Re- search, Inc., here today.

Kaiser, in an address prepared for delivery before the eastern states blast furnace and coke oven association, said there is increasing use of "overfire air jets" which "permit railroad locomotives to operate smokelessly, especially when travel- ling through cities or moving cars in switch yards."

These smoke-eating jets, developed by bituminous coal research, in cooperation with the Louisville and Nashville railroad, are now in use or are being installed by 14 railroads and one barge line.

Kaiser told also of "a smokeless stove embodying new principles" now under development at Battelle Memorial Institute, Columbus, Ohio, for use in heating small homes.

"Smokeless combustion is accom- plished," Kaiser said, "by maintain- ing a balance at all times between the air provided for combustion and the liberation of volatile products from the fuel."

PUBLIC URGED TO INVEST IN 7TH WAR LOAN

Washington, June 22 (AP)—The president of the National Retail Dry Goods Association urged today that "people only buy the merchandise they really need."

Benjamin H. Namm, of Brooklyn, saying we are in danger of losing. "In price rise orgy, much of what we are fighting for," asked Amer- icans to take the money they save by limiting their purchases and in- vest it in the 7th War Loan.

The association which Namm heads has a membership of de- partment stores and specialty shops in all parts of the country.

In a statement made public by the Treasury department, Namm said there is a growing danger in people with "more money than usual all wanting to buy the same scarce merchandise."

He declared that one sure way of keeping the economy on an even keel is to "put every possible dollar into War Bonds."

Seek E Bond Goal The retail leader's statement sup- ported the position of Treasury Secretary Morgenthau that the sur- passing of the $14,000,000,000 overall quota in the bond drive yesterday does not mean that the whole job is done.

Total sales have reached $15,982,- 000,000 with the corporation quota of $7,000,000,000 passed with a sales figure of $9,782,000,000.

Morgenthau said in a statement that this was "gratifying" but he said complete success won't be at- tained until the $7,000,000,000 quota for individual bond-buyers is met.

Sales to individuals now are $6,- 200,000,000. Of that amount, $2,779, 000,000 is in series E bonds—against an E-bond quota of $4,000,000,000. The drive ends June 30 with the ac- counting period continuing through July 7. It opened May 14.

Chapter 32 Lucia continued to look out the window, her black eyes wide with terror and defiance. How dare these people come to threaten her? Why, Francis ought to go out there and—But Francis was, apparently, doing nothing. He stood there with the others, his belief changing to tense excitement mingled with shame that this thing was happening in Lowell.

The first cries from the outside left Lucia quivering with fright. She crouched down on the stairway. No one even looked toward her. Liza, Anna, Sam and Jerry huddle into the corner of the living room, their eyes rolling with apprehension.

"Mrs. Lambert! We want Mrs. Lambert!" came the shouts from the outside.

"Yes. Just a few words with Mrs. Lambert!"

The loud, insistent cry was taken up by the enormous crowd as they advanced to the house, trampling on Lucia's beautiful formal gardens, the shrubs and grass.

Another yell: "Don't call her Mrs. Lambert. There was another Mrs. Lambert a long time ago!"

"Yes! Just a louder cry. 'We want Lucia! We want her to tell us how it feels to murder children!'"

A loud voice screamed to the mob of workers: "She's afraid of us! She don't want to tell us how it feels to kill a crippled child!"

Then there was silence for a mo- ment, broken only by angry mut- terings from the people. Francis turned to the others. "I'm going out there," he told them. "I shall reason with them."

"No," said Ned decisively. "No, don't let them see you now, Francis. If you failed, you'd never regain discipline."

Another loud cry from the mob: "What's Lowell coming to when our children ain't safe?"

Ned decided: "I'll see what I can do."

But with that decision a woman ran up to the porch and, facing the crowd, cried: "Are we going to let her hide behind the walls of her fine house and get away with it? She's hated us ever since she came here!"

"Send Lucia out," came the yell. "Or we'll come after her!"

Lucia called to the others be- low, her once lovely voice crack- ing with fright and anger. "You idiots! Why don't you do some- thing?"

Kay turned to them. "I'll go out. They know me. And I understand them."

Rex caught her arm and held her close beside him. "No, I won't let you go. I've seen enough people suffer on Lucia's account. Not you, darling. I won't let you."

"No," Francis agreed. "I won't risk you, Kay. Besides, you'd make it worse. You look too much like Katherine—they'd see it."

The cries rose louder and louder. "Let's go after her. Are we gon- na wait all day?"

Ned whispered hoarsely. "Get Lucia out the back! Take her away in your car!"

And Francis: "It's too late."

They've surrounded the house! It was while the porch was packed with the infuriated people pressing against the walls and the windows that the door was suddenly opened from the inside. Dr. Sims was stand- ing there, his white hair shining in the sunlight, his shoulders drooping with the weariness of service to these villagers, his old eyes dim and compassionate.

For a full minute he stared out at the crowd. When he spoke to them, his voice was low and plead- ing: "There's not one of you who is as grieved over Tommy's death as I am," he said simply. "You know that, don't you?"

The people stared back at him. Their fury and violence gone with surprise. Then their surprise chang- ed to sorrow, and then to shame that he should see them here. Why he was one of them; he had loved and worked for Lowell before most of them were born. Of all the men in the village he was the most beloved.

He spoke again. "It's time for the shift to begin. Go back to your work or you'll be late."

Dr. Sims turned back to the room. Lucia came and stood beside him. The crowd parted without a mur- mur as Lucia and Dr. Sims passed through to his car. He started the motor, ignoring Jerry's frantic cry, leaving behind the knowledge in every person's mind: "Dr. Sims is the only person who could have saved Lucia!"

The roar of the car drowned out Jerry's voice. "Lard, you can't drive. Doc!" Jerry was wailing. "Sides, them brakes ain't no good. Come back!"

They drove down the hill, and had reached the end of Lambert avenue when Lucia heard Dr. Sims moan as though in pain. She looked at him with irritation, then with fright.

She saw his face was gray with pain, his eyes were staring. His hands left the steering wheel and clutched his breast. Lucia knew in one flash of thought that he was having a heart attack. Intuitively she knew that he was dying.

She clutched the steering wheel and frantically tried the emergency brake. In vain. She looked at the old man angrily and even in her fright a strange, quick thought formed in her mind: What had Katherine Lambert meant to old Dr. Sims that she should die with flicke name on his lips.

His body slumped to one side of the seat and to Lucia's horror his foot continued to press on the ac- celerator. It was impossible to stop the car. To jump was certain death.

Lucia's scream was high and shrill as the car reached the top of the hill and gathered momentum going down. She saw the bridge rushing at them from below. The bridge she'd feared and hated ever since she'd come to Lowell.

The car crashed through, turned slowly over in mid-air and dropped to the railroad tracks far below, a mass of twisted, broken steel.

YANKEES AGAIN BEAT FERRISS; BROOKLYN WINS

By JOE REICHLER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

It may be premature to hail Boston's Dave (Boo) Ferriss as another Bob Feller, but the two have at least one thing in common—both have found it difficult to beat the New York Yankees.

Feller, the Van Meter (Ia.) meteor, won 106 games for a .865 percentage in six seasons, holding the edge over every other club in the league by wide margins, but he could do no better than an even 14-14 won and lost record against the Yankees.

In battering Ferriss from the mound for the first time in his major league career yesterday, the Yankees defeated the sensational Red Sox rookie for the second straight time, the only losses charged against him this year. Winner of nine games, at least one from every club, Ferriss had topped his first eight before being stopped by the Bronxites two weeks ago.

A crowd of 15,110 saw the Yankees clout Ferriss for five hits and nine runs before he was removed in the fifth. The Yanks went on to score 13 runs in that frame, just one short of their own record for tallies in an inning, and eventually club the Sox 14-4 behind Walt Dubiel.

Frank (Stubby) Overmire pitched and batted the first place Detroit Tigers to a 5-1 victory over Cleveland. He spaced seven hits for his fifth triumph and batted in two runs to defeat Jim Bagby.

Brooklyn's Dodgers won their 12th game from the Philadelphia Phillies 9-2. Held to two runs in seven innings by Isadore Leon, making his first start for the Phillies, the Dodgers teed off on reliever Anton Karl for five in the eighth and continued on Oscar Judd for two more in the ninth. The victory, the first for Cy Buker making his major league debut, increased the Brook's first place lead to three and one-half games.

Cubs Advance

Chicago's Cubs moved into second place by downing Pittsburgh 5-4 for their fifth straight victory.

The St. Louis Cardinals remained four percentage points behind the Cubs, a half game ahead of the fourth place Pirates with a 4-6 shut-out over Cincinnati. Elly Donnelly scattered five Red Sox hits.

Washington and the Athletics were scoreless when rain ended the contest in the last half of the fourth inning. The Braves and Giants in the National league and the White Sox and Browns in the American were not scheduled.

Jeep Favored To Win Belmont

New York, June 22 (AP)—For the first time since 1938 the American turf's triple crown will be split three ways tomorrow when a half-dozen three-year-olds meet in the $50,000 added Belmont Stakes at Belmont Park.

Neither Hoop, Jr., winner of the Kentucky Derby, or Polynesian, victor in last Saturday's Preakness, will be in the mile and one-half test. Hoop, Jr., bowed a tendon in the Preakness and is through racing for the season while Polynesian is not eligible.

The last time the crown was divided among three horses, Lawrin accounted for the Derby, Dauber took the Preakness and Pastureur came through in the Belmont.

Col. C. V. Whitney's Jeep, fifth in the Derby, is the favorite to take the third of the rich three-year-olds stakes which will have a gross value of close to $73,000. The son of the English Derby winner, Mahmoud, showed he was in shape by taking the Peter Pan Handicap of a mile and one-eighth earlier in the week.

Hagerstown Owls Beat Red Roses

(By The Associated Press)

The Hagerstown Owls came through with a 12-6 victory over the Lancaster Red Roses in an interstate league game at Hagerstown last night. Nill Baskin for the Owls outclassed Pat McCullough in a wild and free hitting spree. Hagerstown collected 16 hits to 12 for the Roses.

Lancaster rallied in their half of the seventh to score three times but Carmen Mauro put them right back in front with a lone home run over the right field fence with one mate on board.

The Allentown-Wilmington game was postponed in the first half of the second inning because of rain. Both teams were scoreless when the contest was called off. The York-Trenton game was also postponed because of rain.

Today's schedule: Allentown at Hagerstown, Trenton at Lancaster and Wilmington at York.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, June 22 (AP)—Hottest tip to arrive recently from the west is that Frank Leahy already has signed as coach of the Los Angeles club in the All-American football conference. The story is that the announcement is being held up until Leahy can straighten things out with Notre Dame, which refused to release him from the ten year contract he signed last winter. From Oklahoma comes the suggestion that the N. C. A. A. should hold a telegraphic track meet for the V-12 schools, which couldn't send teams to the regular championships. At the usual NCAA pace, it wouldn't be settled before the Navy program ends. One reason why Hank Greenberg was in such good shape for his return to the Tigers was that he worked out in a local gym daily for a couple of weeks before his discharge from the Army.

SPORTS BEFORE YOUR EYES

Although tub-thumper Harry Markson is making the most of the green (Harold) and gold (Sol) combination as Fritz Zivie's opposition tonight, Fritz is known for his willingness to accept either one. He doesn't ask who he's going to fight—just how much? Ira Vail, dirt track automobile racing champ 30 years ago, is the barrier judge at Roosevelt raceway, which started as a track for gas buggies and now features trotting horses. Clyde Farmer, 18-year-old Nashville, Tenn., softball pitcher, claims to use six different pitches. They all look the same to the batters, as Clyde has fanned 120 in 52 innings.

Heiges, Dougherty Win Nominations In Battle For Burgess

Former Burgess C. A. Heiges won the Republican nomination for Burgess in a three-way "sticker" campaign in Tuesday's balloting in Gettysburg while the Democratic nomination went to Charles B. Dougherty on the basis of unofficial figures compiled Tuesday night as the returns reached the county commissioner's office at the court house.

Burgess Fred G. Pfeffer, in whose behalf a "sticker" campaign was launched Monday morning, placed second in the Republican balloting and ran third for the Democratic nomination. Pfeffer ends his four-year term as Burgess at the end of this year.

Although many of the voters used "stickers" in naming their choice for Burgess, a number wrote in the names of their candidates and each candidate's name appeared in several forms in all of the election districts here so that final figures may be altered by the official tabulation which begins Friday at noon.

Snyder and Weikert Win
Robert P. Snyder won both party nominations for justice of the peace and J. Herbert Weikert accomplished the same feat as a candidate for tax collector.

George T. Raffensperger and Charles S. Black were nominated on both tickets for the two vacancies on the local school board. Black is a candidate for re-election. Raffensperger will succeed Arthur E. Hutchison who was not a candidate.

Each of the three members of council whose terms expire was re-nominated without opposition on both tickets in all three wards. George D. March was named as the choice of both parties in the First ward; L. D. Shealer in the Second ward and Joseph D. Kendeheart in the Third.

S. Richard Eisenhart was nominated by both parties for re-election as borough auditor for a six-year term.

The Vote For Burgess
A tabulation of the vote by precincts on the GOP nomination for Burgess follows:

	Heiges	Pfeffer	Dougherty
1W1P	49	21	21
1W2P	54	70	12
2W	93	46	34
3W	46	30	12
Totals	242	209	79

The voting for the Democratic nomination was tabulated as follows:

	Dougherty	Heiges	Pfeffer
1W 1P	22	4	1
1W2P	26	4	1
2W	49	25	11
3W	34	15	3
Totals	131	58	20

Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder, whose name was on the GOP ballots, won that nomination by a big complimentary vote and gained the Democratic nomination by a margin of 41 to 27 over J. W. Brinkman, for whom stickers were distributed Tuesday.

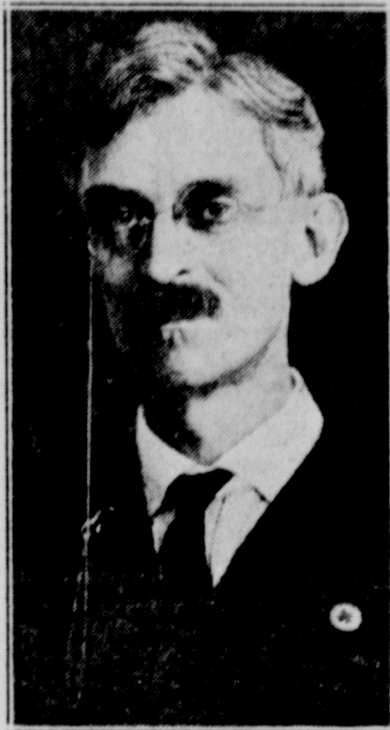

Ward Results
Messrs. Black and Raffensperger got large Republican votes for the two school board nominations. Black's total was 467 and Raffensperger's 545. Raffensperger's name was first on the ballot. For the Democratic nominations Black received 12 votes and Raffensperger, 11.

In the First ward Betty M. Lawver was nominated by the Republicans for assessor and Milton Remmel won the Democratic nomination on a single ballot. Mrs. Anne Bracey is the Republican judge of elections in the First precinct and Mrs. Mary Naugle received the Republican nomination for assessor. In the Second precinct the Republicans voted for George Bender for judge of elections and Carl Oyler for assessor.

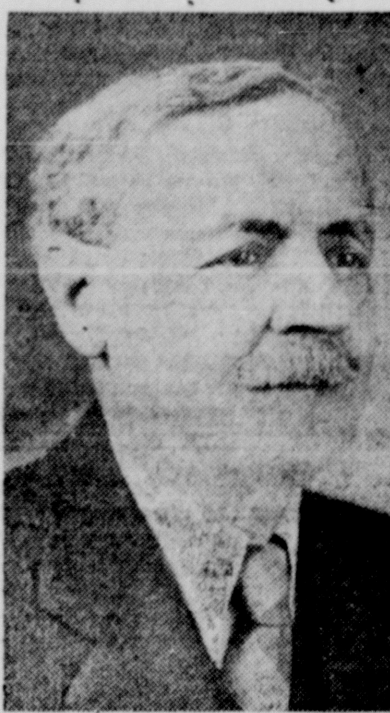

In the Second ward John L. Biecker received both nominations for re-election as assessor. C. T. Tipton is the Republican nominee for judge of elections and D. D. Kendeheart for assessor.

One Vote For Inspector
Third ward voters used stickers on the Democratic ticket to give Mrs. Floranna Hoke Fowler both nominations for re-election. Elizabeth Redding got both nominations for judge of elections and Edna Snyder and Annie Cunningham are the inspectors.

In the First precinct of the First ward no one cast a vote on the Democratic ticket for judge of elections and C. C. Bream won the nomination as inspector with one vote. In the Second precinct John Dotterer is the Democratic nomi-

Sgt. Reeve expects to receive a discharge on the point system.

MEN HELD FOR BURGLARIZING SOLDIER'S HOME

Guy Emley, 67, Gardner R. D. 1, was committed to the county jail Tuesday pending a hearing before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder for burglary.

Pennsylvania state police say they found almost the entire furnishings of the home of Sgt. and Mrs. William Ingle, Aspers R. D., at the home of Emley after a search had been instituted when Mrs. Ingle reported the theft.

Police say the burglary occurred on or about June 13 when Emley hauled away the household goods of Sergeant Ingle, who is overseas as a carpenter with the Army Air Forces. Mrs. Ingle, the daughter of Mrs. Clayton Guise, Biglerville R. D., was not living in her home at the time. Since her husband left for Hawaii in April she has been living with her mother and working at the American Chain Works in York.

Goods Worth $3,000

Upon her return some time ago from Pagos, Texas, where she had been living with her husband who had been stationed at the Pagos Army Air Base, Mrs. Ingle inspected the home at Aspers and found all to be in order. She did not return until last week when she discovered that the house had been stripped of all its belongings except one rocking chair. "They even took the baby's rocker," she said.

The Ingles have two children, Tolbert, 15, and Joyce, 15 months. Sgt. Ingle entered the service April 16, 1944, and left his base at Pagos the middle of April.

Police estimates place the stolen property, most of which has been located, either at the home of Emley or at the homes of people to whom he is reported to have sold various pieces, at about $3,000.

SAILOR HELD IN CAR THEFT

Seaman First Class Robert Fink, 29, St. Louis, Mo., an alleged Navy deserter, is being held by borough police in connection with a stolen car belonging to the Rev. W. James Emmis, Seibville, Del., after being found asleep in the car Sunday morning.

The car which was parked on Fifth street was reported to borough police by Walter Crouse, and upon investigation Seaman Fink was discovered asleep in the vehicle. The car had been reported stolen five days ago from Pikesville, Md., by the Rev. Mr. Emmis who stated that he had picked up Fink, who was hitchhiking, in Florida and driven to Pikesville with him as a passenger. The Rev. Emmis stated that the car contained four suits of clothes, a portable typewriter, a table model radio, several blankets and possessed a spare tire all of which were missing at the time the car was picked up.

According to Chief of Borough Police Glenn Guise, Fink left Pier 67 at New York, a navy reassignment center, May 1, and had been severely burned about the feet while on foreign service with the navy.

PAYS FINE AND COSTS

Robert L. Lang, Washington, D. C., was fined $5 and costs by Justice of the Peace John H. Bashore for failing to stop at a stop sign at Springs avenue and Chambersburg street on charges filed by Clark W. Staley of the borough police.

ONE WAR BOND QUOTA "OVER"; E SALES SHORT

The most encouraging news in the "Mighty Seventh" war loan campaign was given out Monday morning by Edmund W. Thomas, chairman of the Adams County War Finance committee, when he made public bond sale figures for the county as released Monday by the Federal Reserve bank, of Philadelphia.

Sale of all types of bonds to individuals in Adams county, as of the close of business last Friday, June 15, total $1,230,000. Of this amount the official figures, as of the same date, on the sale of E bonds to individuals total $448,762.50. This leaves an unsold balance of E bonds to individuals of a few dollars over $250,000 to reach the county quota of $700,000.

The quota of all types of bonds to individuals of $760,000 is oversubscribed by approximately $20,000.

County Quota

The Adams county quota of $2,110,000 for all types of bonds to everybody was officially announced by the State War Finance Committee Monday morning. Sale of bonds to others in the county, not including individuals, officially begins Monday and Chairman Thomas said that every indication points to the fact that this part of the county quota will be oversubscribed before the close of the drive July 7.

Thus Adams county is placed in an excellent position of again reaching its individual and overall quotas before the "Mighty Seventh" war loan campaign is concluded.

Graduates From Armored School

Fort Knox, Ky. (Special)—Another class of skilled tank mechanics has been graduated from the Armored School. Graduates included Pvt. Charles D. Rebert, whose wife resides on Gettysburg R. 2.

During their training in the school's tank department the soldier students worked with the same tools issued to field crews and under the same conditions they are likely to encounter in the field. They studied the mechanisms of the various tanks, from track to turret, learning how to keep them roaring into combat.

ACTION IN TRESPASS

Harry Haymond, Hartford, Connecticut, has filed an action in trespass against Stanley Straley of Mt. Joy township claiming $2,000 damages as the result of an automobile accident Nov. 13, 1944.

ATTENTION! Navy, Marines, Coast Guard

A new Post Office and Navy department regulation definitely prohibits the mailing of newspapers to persons in the Navy, Marines and Coast Guard outside the Continental United States unless specifically requested by letter and paid for by someone other than the publishers. The new order is similar to the one invoked by the Post Office and the War department two years ago.

The new restriction becomes effective July 1. On and after that date The Gettysburg Times is prohibited from sending its daily or service edition to any person in the Navy, Marines and Coast Guard outside the Continental United States unless said person specifically requests the paper. The request must be made in writing. The subscription must be paid for by the recipient or by some one other than the publisher.

The new order affects all newspapers in the United States.

The Gettysburg Times, believed to be the first newspaper to send its editions FREE to all persons in all branches of the service, inaugurated this service in 1940. Two years later, because of the rationing of newsprint, a special Service Edition, containing all the local news of Adams County and stripped of all commercial advertising, was substituted and addressed to Adams countians all over the world, without charge. Two years ago the Army and the Post Office department, in order to conserve shipping space, barred FREE newspapers outside the U. S. and directed that all such subscriptions must be paid for by someone other than the publisher. The Navy and the Post Office department now evoke a similar regulation, effective July 1.

Those in service, outside the United States, who desire to continue receiving The Gettysburg Times are urged to order their subscription by mail now . . . or parents, brothers, sisters or any other individual may order a subscription for some loved one in service by writing The Times now and paying for the subscription in advance, either by the month or by the year.

LOCAL GUARD TROOP TO GO TO INDIANTOWN

Members of Troop C, the Adams county unit of the First Cavalry Squadron of the Pennsylvania State Guard, will leave the state armory at Gettysburg Saturday at 2 p. m. for Indiantown Gap for a 10-day period of field training.

Capt. C. Arthur Brame, troop commander, said today that all of the 73 enlisted men and the three officers of the troop will go to camp. The training at Indiantown Gap is compulsory and all members of the local Guard unit will be required to attend.

The local troop will meet at 7:30 o'clock Friday evening at the armory for final instructions and to complete preparations for the trip to Indiantown Gap which will be made in the troop's own motorized equipment.

Intensive Training

At Indiantown Gap the local troop will form part of the 6,000 Guardsmen from all parts of the state, including infantry, cavalry, special weapons, engineer and service units who will encamp there Saturday.

It will be the first time that all units of the Guard have been in the field together, Maj. Gen. Milton G. Baker, commanding general, said in Philadelphia.

General Baker said the Guard will undergo one of the most intensive training periods in its history. Regular Army officers and War department representatives will observe the training.

SAYS GERMANS WELL FED AND WELL DRESSED

Pfc. William C. Schmidt, former assistant manager of the G. C. Murphy company here, now somewhere in Europe, tells of his recent experiences in a letter to Mr. and Mrs. Ed Culver, Hanover street, as follows:

"Saw a great deal of combat and traveled a lot during recent weeks . . . saw the ruins of Aachen. Was in and around Dusseldorf, Cologne, the Rhine, etc. . . . was at the Ruhr pocket when it was closed and was with the Third Army in Czechoslovakia when the war ended over here. At the present I am at Hamburg, about 40 miles from Nurnberg . . . we lived fine in combat . . . including some of the best homes in cities, towns and in the country . . . had a different home almost every night. For the past ten days we have been living in tents, the first I've slept in pup tents since coming over here. Found many of the beds over here too short for me.

"You may have read that our Division, the 97th, is going to the Pacific via the States. The weather hasn't been too nice for camping . . . much rain and cold weather . . . the more I see of this country the more I love America. Except in the cities, conveniences are few. No sewers in the small towns and often no running water . . . if it is running, the water is always cold; hot water must be heated on stoves . . . usually a stove in every room . . . saw many German prisoners and refugees. Germany had prisoners and forced labor, men and women, from all over the Continent. The caravan I saw the other day of displaced persons and refugees could not be compared with the comforts of our covered wagon days.

"The German people all seem well fed and well dressed. Potatoes had been one of their main foods and most had chicken, goats, rabbits, cows, etc. . . . in many of the homes it is hard to tell where the house stops and the barns begin."

Sgt. Paul Kunkel, who was recently discharged from the Army at Indiantown Gap, returned to his home on East Berlin R. 3 Tuesday for the first time in over six years during which his relatives had failed to hear from him due to letters going astray.

Kunkel has been in the service for six and one-half years and served in many countries throughout the world. He wears six service stripes. Five brothers are also in the service. They are the sons of Mrs. Garcia Bechtel Kunkel, East Berlin R. 3.

SELMAR W. HESS GETS FIRST G.I. LOAN IN COUNTY

Selmar W. Hess, 23, a former flight officer in the U. S. Army Air Forces, has contracted for the first loan in Adams county under the "GI Bill of Rights," according to officers of the Gettysburg National bank who handled the $3,500 loan on Saturday.

Mr. Hess, who is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Selmar H. Hess, Gettysburg, said he will use the $3,500 loan to help finance the purchase of a home for his family near Barlow. The property includes eight acres of land.

The discharged veteran expects to live there with his wife, the former Miss Phyllis Fry of Gettysburg, and their daughter, Bonnie Lee, aged four months. He plans to assist his father in the antique business in Gettysburg.

Has Medical Discharge

The ex-soldier seemed pleased with the way in which the governmental loan machinery operates for veterans. "I filled out two sets of papers and then waited for two months and the loan was made," he said adding that there was little "red tape" involved in getting the government guarantee for his loan from the local bank.

Hess recently received a medical discharge from the air corps. He received a head injury in February, 1944, when he was forced to "bail out" of a burning plane in a flight from an army base in Massachusetts. Hess does not know how he was hurt. His last recollection of the flight was of leaving the burning ship through the bomb bay.

He entered the service on August 25, 1942, and was discharged on March 20 of this year. He received his basic training at the Augusta (Ga.) Army Air base.

The new Hess home is located along the road leading from Barlow to the Hoffman orphanage. It is being purchased from Floyd Yingling. The transfer of title to the property has been recorded at the court house.

BOARD HONORS FORMER WORKER

Mrs. Rosalie Raffensperger, Arendtsville, former supervisor in the Adams county Public Assistance office and a veteran of more than 10 years of service in relief offices here, was recommended by the county Assistance Board Monday evening for membership in the state Ten-Year club.

Mrs. Raffensperger served first in the State Emergency Relief Board office here, and then was executive secretary for the Mothers' Assistance Fund. When relief agencies were merged under the Department of Public Assistance, she became supervisor in the new county relief office.

Mrs. Verna Myers, executive director at the Assistance office, reported the present case load totals. 667 cases involving 989 individuals. A year ago the total number of cases was 670. The present rolls include 461 cases of old age assistance, 77 blind pension, 72 cases of aid to dependent children and 57 cases of general assistance.

Mrs. Myers displayed graphic charts prepared by the state office showing the decrease in relief applications in the last five years and indicated causes for opening and closing relief cases.

Chairman M. Stuart Danner presided with J. D. Miller, J. H. Weaver, J. Hayes Beard and Mrs. Maude Saby, directors, and Mrs. Myers in attendance.

COUNTY LIBRARY MEMBERSHIP TO GO 'OVER THE TOP'

That the membership campaign of the Adams County Free Library Association is approaching its minimum goal of 3,000 members was disclosed at the June meeting of the association's board of directors Monday evening at the court house.

Announcing a current membership total of 2,900, O. H. Benson, chairman of the board and president of the association, said: "Adams county always goes 'over the top' in every worthwhile effort and we feel sure that library memberships will go far beyond the figure we set months ago as the minimum with which we would attempt to begin operating a county library."

"Some county communities," he continued, "have not yet had a full opportunity for their citizens to enroll. We want every man, woman and child in the county and every organization interested in enrolling in the library organization to have the opportunity to join as charter members. No limit ever has been set on the number of members the library may have. We know the total soon will be well above the original minimum of 3,000."

Interviewing Applicants

At the same session the board extended all charter memberships of individuals and organizations to December 31, 1946. This action, it was pointed out, will keep charter memberships in full force for the first year of county library service here. Because county funds for the library will not become available until January 1, 1946, full operation of the library cannot be accomplished before that date, the board members explained. It is hoped, however, to have a trained librarian employed by September 1 of this year.

The special committee on the selection of a librarian reported that it has held two meetings, considered applications and held one interview. A decision on a recommendation to the board is expected to be reached at the committee's next meeting on July 13. That committee report was given by Mrs. E. S. Lewars for the chairman, Dr. Robert A. Bream.

Lauded By State Officers

President Benson announced the appointment of C. A. Wills, Glenn L. Bream and Mrs. Paul Singmaster to the committee on properties and supplies, several members of which were selected at the May meeting.

John H. Knickerbocker told of attending a state meeting of county librarians recently at Harrisburg and said state library officials are "enthusiastic" about the progress being made by the Adams county association and the organization methods being followed here. REVISE PLANS FOR RATIONING CANNING SUGAR

Revised plans for issuing rations of canning sugar here were announced June 16 to put an end to a deluge of telephone calls from housewives who this week received only a fraction of the sugar rations for which they had applied.
The local War Price and Rationing board explained that canning sugar will be distributed on the basis of monthly quotas instead of granting any applicant his or her entire allotment of canning sugar in one issue.
The June issue is being made at the rate of three pounds per person with the first sugar ration allotments going out Friday after the short-handed ration board staff secured the help of several volunteer workers to aid in handling the sugar rush.

15-Pound Limit
A family of two receives six pounds of canning sugar for June, a family of three, nine pounds, and so on. Individual amounts to be issued in later months may be more than three pounds.

In July after the local board receives its canning sugar quota from the district office at Harrisburg, a July individual quota will be determined by dividing the number of applications into the number of pounds in the board's quota for the month and the July rations will be mailed.

A similar procedure will be followed each month until the canning season ends in October. For the purposes of the OPA sugar rations the "canning season" extends from April 15 to October 15. No sugar rations for canning will be issued after that date. Fifteen pounds is the maximum which may be issued to any individual for the entire season.

A board spokesman said Saturday that more than 4,000 individuals are represented in applications for canning sugar already on file at the ration board office and each mail brings more applications.

The canning sugar rations issued Friday were the first to go out here since the lifting of the "freeze order" on sugar for canning. An announcement from Harrisburg last Saturday lifted the "freeze" but delay in receiving the June quota figure and lack of adequate clerical help in the local office delayed issuance of the sugar certificates until Friday.

Seasonal canning sugar needs are to be considered in fixing board's monthly quotas, it was explained.

CHARLES WIVELL LOST 50 POUNDS IN NAZI CAMP

T. Sgt. Charles Wivell, AAF, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wivell, is home on a 60-day leave after having been a prisoner of war in the B-17 Stalag camp, Germany, for almost a year and a half.
Sgt. Wivell was top turret gunner in a B-17 shot down over Greece December 14, 1943. As he bailed out a formation of German fighters circled him so closely he could have reached out and touched their wing tips. His first thought, he stated, was that they would kill him but as they followed him he felt reassured and lit a cigarette which he enjoyed until he hit the earth. The fighters had radioed his position to the ground troops who were on hand to escort him to a building in Athens for questioning.
Two of his crew were rescued by the Greeks and got back to their base. Sgt. Wivell was flown in a Ju-52 to Salonika, Greece, then taken to Frankfurt, Germany, then to the Stalag camp, reportedly the worst of the camps for prisoners of war.

Poor Treatment
When asked about the treatment he received at the hands of the Nazis, he remarked that "it was pretty rough." He lost 50 pounds during imprisonment. Twice a day the prisoners, (approximately 4,000 Americans besides Poles, French, Russians and Czechs), received hot water, and the third meal was a watery, unpalatable soup and on rare occasion, potatoes. The first few months at Stalag, Sgt. Wivell said, the Red Cross packages came fairly regularly and were the only thing the boys looked forward to. For the past year, however, Red Cross packages were a rarity, the German civilians making the excuse that they were demolished by the American bombing.

When liberation came on May 3, 1945, and the starved men ran through the nearby towns looking for whatever food they could find, they saw the American Red Cross packages stacked and empty in over two-thirds of the German civilian homes. During internment the ers' college.
Americans foraged in the camp grounds for snails and dandelion leaves which they ate if not with relish, with the idea of maintaining life until liberation. They made their own tools, cooking utensils and cigarette lighters from tin cans received in the first Red Cross packages. Sgt. Wivell said they made every utensil the American housewife has in her kitchen—grinders for crackers, graters for the chocolate bars, pots, pans and even scissors.

Makes Lighter
He produced a unique cigarette lighter, his own invention, which in the absence of lighter fluid had a bit of burnt cloth which held the spark created by the friction of two pieces of metal. Sgt. Wivell had made this from a needle case received in the first of his Red Cross packages and the burnt cloth from his own shirt.

The Germans, fearing the advancing Russians would liberate the prisoners at Stalag started the weakened men on a forced march of a month's duration in which they made 10 to 15 miles a day with heavy packs on their backs. Their only food was a bowl of the aforementioned soup every other day. Along the way some of the German civilians gave the prisoners small bits of bread in exchange for cigarettes. Sgt. Wivell said he was never given a German cigarette in the year and a half he spent in Stalag.

Coddling Hurt Morale
He also stated that while in Stalag, the American prisoners heard of the reported coddling of German prisoners here in the States. One boy's mother wrote that she had been assigned by a civic group to take cigarettes and other luxuries to a German PW camp in one of our cities. "As an understatement," said Sgt. Wivell, "this news did little to raise the morale of the men at Stalag."

When asked if the prisoners were ill-treated, Sgt. Wivell said that he had never been beaten but that he had seen others beaten with Nazi rifle butts.

Sgt. Wivell wears the European ribbon with three battle stars for air combat over Greece, Germany and Italy. After his 60-day furlough he will report to Miami Beach, Florida.

CULLISON HELD ON FOUR COUNTS

Richard E. Cullison, 18, Orrtanna R. 2, who was arrested Saturday night by state police who had to use force to take him into custody, was in the county jail Monday with a total of four charges laid against him by state and borough officers. He is serving time on two of the counts and awaiting arraignment on the others.

State police stopped Cullison in Race Horse alley about 10 p. m. and took him before a local physician for an examination on suspicion of drunken driving. The examination did not substantiate the officers' opinion and Cullison became unruly. The officers took him to the county jail and lodged charges of resisting arrest, disorderly conduct and reckless driving before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder.

Monday Justice Snyder held Cullison for August court on the charge of resisting arrest after the defendant had pleaded guilty. Fines were imposed in the two other cases and in default of payment of those levies Cullison was sent to jail for 10 days on the disorderly count and 30 days for reckless driving.

Borough police have filed a reckless driving charge against Cullison before Justice of the Peace John H. Baschore. A 10-day notice has been sent Cullison on that count. The borough officers stopped the defendant on Buford avenue, they said. James Arthur Kint, Orrtanna R. 2, said to have been Cullison's companion, also was arraigned before Justice Snyder for disorderly conduct. He was released after paying a $5 fine and the costs. Borough police brought that charge.

The Emmitsburg road is the only sector yet to be surfaced under this program, he said. The first 40 miles included the road from Cashtown to Brysonia and Wensville, a section of highway near Aspers and short stretches in many parts of the county.

TELLS ROLE OF U. S. TRAVELERS AFTER THE WAR

"American travelers to European countries after the war must not be arrogant or critical of the European people, but rather maintain an attitude of appreciation of their way of life," Dr. Thomas L. Cline, professor of English at Gettysburg college, told the local Rotary club at a ladies' night dinner at the Hotel Gettysburg Monday.

When we go back to Europe as visitors, we must not cause people of the Axis countries to feel as beaten nations," Dr. Cline said. "American travelers should be ambassadors of good will, not ill will. Europeans should be treated as Americans would like to be treated and not called names of derision."

Russia, the professor added, along with the countries of western Europe will be a center of attraction. The life, habits and national economy of Russia are new to Americans and they must approach Russians in a spirit of brotherhood and understanding.

Doctor Cline spoke of many cities which escaped serious damage even though they had been subjected to heavy and continued bombing. Many points of interest in London, Paris, Dresden, Vienna, Rome, Florence, and other centers of art and culture are unharmed according to reports reaching this country, he said.

Enjoy Special Music
Doctor Cline also discussed the varying modes of travel which will be open to those who intend to visit Europe and other nations after the war and pointed out that for the sake of variety many will probably travel one way by air and another way by ship along routes where the air and ship schedules are carefully coordinated.

A veteran traveler, Dr. Cline conducted tours through Europe during several summers preceding the outbreak of war, and he stated that travel agencies and transportation companies already have long lists of applications for travel as soon as European conditions permit.

The musical part of the program consisted of the songs "When I Grow Too Old to Dream," "Where Blossoms Grow," and "Auf Wieder-sehn," presented by Mrs. Murray Frazee, Jr., and "Goin' Home," and "Sunshine of Your Smile," sung by Dr. Frederick Tilberg. Professor Dunning Idle led the group singing accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Idle.

President Walter T. Africa presided. In addition to the Rotarians and their wives there were the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Meyer, Washington, D. C.; Major and Mrs. Edmund W. Thomas, Jr., Captain John Stahle, Mrs. C. H. Hett and Mr. and Mrs. George Sidler.

Sgt. John Keller Gets Bronze Star

Sgt. John H. Keller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Keller, McKnightstown, has been awarded the Bronze Star medal for meritorious service with the 347th Engineer General Service Regiment in Germany from March 14 to March 25, 1945.

Sgt. Keller was in charge of a group of 40 enlisted men who set spans of steel and rail in constructing a railroad bridge across the Saar river. He directed work both night and day. The loyal and continuous support of Sgt. Keller's men gained through his outstanding leadership resulted in completion of the work ahead of schedule in the remarkable time of 12 days.

Keller enlisted in the army in May, 1942, and has been overseas for about three years.

LIONS CHOOSE NEW OFFICERS; HEAR SPEAKER

Gettysburg Lions conducted their annual election of officers at their weekly dinner meeting Monday evening when Dr. William K. Sundermeyer, member of the faculty of Gettysburg college, was the guest speaker.

The new staff of officers, which will take up their duties July 2, follows: President, Glenn L. Bream; first vice president, Milton R. Remmel; second vice president, Mahlon P. Hartzell; third vice president, D. E. Hess; secretary, Robert Smith, re-elected; treasurer, J. Herbert Weikert, re-elected; tail-twister, Kenneth P. Hull; lion tamer, Robert Sheads, and directors for two years, Fred G. Troxell and George T. Raffensperger.

The retiring president, J. Milton Bender, presided at the meeting with 38 Lions in attendance. Charles E. Wolf, Granite warehouseman, was presented as a new member of the club.

Tells of Home Town
The club adopted appropriate resolutions on the death of William A. Beales, who was president of the club when he entered service in June, 1943. The resolutions, prepared by the club's military affairs committee and read by its chairman, Dean W. E. Tilberg, made special mention of Bill's many services to the club and this community.

Dr. J. Munley introduced the speaker, Doctor Sundermeyer, who told for the first time in Gettysburg stories he had heard from authoritative sources in Germany before he came to this country about men who became chief figures in the Nazi regime.

Citing his own home town of 17,000 near Hannover, Germany, as a typical example of what happened throughout Germany, he said "the sum of the earth came to the top under Nazi power and the people of Germany realized the type of persons who were gaining high office in their nation."

He told how a "no good" lawyer and despised collector of fines in his home town became high Nazi official.

The clubmen received an invitation to attend a meeting of civic organizations June 27 at Chambersburg under the sponsorship of the state Chamber of Commerce. Next week the Lions will meet at Hershey park at 6:15 p. m.

MEMORIAL FLAG PRESENTED AT EXERCISES HERE

The Gettysburg Memorial Flag was presented by the borough council last Tuesday to Willard C. Weikert, representing the Veterans of Foreign Wars at exercises on the balcony of the Hotel Gettysburg by Burgess, Fred G. Pfeffer as the climax of Flag Day exercises, a parade and the unveiling of the War Bond Honor Roll along the east wall of the Eckert building.

The parade formed at Meade school under the direction of Marshal Ray M. Hoffman on horseback who led it up Chambersburg street followed by the Wayne band of Waynesboro at the head of the column. Immediately behind the band strode the color guard of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, colors flying and its members clad in the uniforms of the services to which they belonged. Then came the standard bearers of the Sons of Union Veterans directly ahead of the Gettysburg Fire company, the Boy Scout Drum and Bugle Corps and Gettysburg Boy Scout troops, the Caroline Codori and Cardinal Girl Scout troops, the Girl Reserves, and Troop C, First Cavalry Squadron, Pennsylvania State Guard, under the command of Lt. A. K. Becker, of Littlestown.

Dr. Fortenbaugh Speaks
Judge W. C. Sheely was master of ceremonies at the flag presentation and the Rev. Dr. Ralph R. Gresh delivered the invocation and benediction. Prior to the presentation of the memorial flag to the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Dr. Robert Fortenbaugh, of Gettysburg college, representing the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, sponsors of the event, presented the Flag Day address in which he traced the history of the American flag and with appropriate music from the Wayne band exhibited the various flags which have flown on these shores from the early English flag to the Betsy Ross flag and finally to "Old Glory" in its present form, the emblem of freedom and righteousness throughout the world.

"The American Flag," Doctor Fortenbaugh said in conclusion, "today flies over a land where freedom has been established; it flies over a part of Europe where freedom is being re-established; it flies over parts where freedom will be established by the devotion of those who know it and believe in what it stands for."

Accepts Memorial Flag
"The most appealing photograph of the war was that showing the raising of the flag on Iwo Jima. Two Jima was won. It is a promise of later raisings of this banner until freedom is established in Asia and Japanese foes of freedom have been vanquished as surely as have those of like purpose in Europe."

Following Dr. Fortenbaugh's address, Judge Sheely introduced Burgess Pfeffer and Willard Weikert, formerly a corporal in the Marines, who accepted the Memorial Flag from Burgess Pfeffer representing the borough council, in behalf of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, saying that he did so in behalf not only of himself and the men and women who have served our land on its far-flung battle fronts but in behalf of those who had given their lives for the cause of liberty, justice, equality and brotherhood, and urged every American to do nothing which would sully our bright banner of freedom.

The Wayne Band then played the national anthem after the crowd had joined in pledging allegiance to the flag, led by local city scouts.

Troop C, First Cavalry Squadron, Pennsylvania State Guard then staged a formal retreat in center square, lowering the flag on the staff in the center of the square.

Dedicate Honor Roll
Dr. Harry F. Baughman of the Gettysburg Theological seminary dedicated the Adams County War Bond Honor Roll along the side of the Eckert building. Citing the sacrifices of American men and women in battle and service overseas, Dr. Baughman praised the cooperative enterprise of the community in subscribing to the Seventh War Loan drive.

After the exercises were completed and the white and gold Honor Roll unveiled, the Wayne band presented a concert in front of the Hotel Gettysburg.

Today Chairman George L. Bushman, chairman of the Flag Day committee and a member of the sponsoring Elks organization, expressed his appreciation to members of the committee and to all others who contributed to the success of the Flag Day celebration.

BRAVES LOOM AS CONTENDER IN SENIOR LOOP

By JOE REICHLER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Manager Bob Coleman loomed today as Boston's Miracle Man No. 2.

The rapid rise of the Braves to a contending position in the National league pennant race had baseball followers thinking back 30 years when the Braves under George Stallings, the original miracle man, climaxed a great stretch drive to win their first and only pennant, after being in last place in mid season.

Since that 1914 season, the Braves have been in the first division only five times, but today, after a 15-10 drubbing of the New York Giants Wednesday for their 12th victory in the last 16 games, they were only five games away from second place and only one behind the fifth place Giants.

Paced by Tommy Holmes, the league's leading hitter and first baseman Joe Mack, Boston out-slugged the Giants in a game in which six pitchers gave up 32 hits, 16 for each side. Holmes, with three hits, increased his batting mark to .385 and extended his consecutive hitting streak to 17 straight games. Mack batted in six runs with a homer, double and single and scored four times.

Bums Win Two

A pair of homers by Danny Gardella and one by Johnny Rucker failed to help the Giants, who dropped their 19th game in the last 24, and fell into the second division for the first time this season.

Those onrushing Brooklyn Dodgers cracked out a double win over the Philadelphia Phillies, 4-2 and 8-1, to pull three games in front of the second place Pittsburgh Pirates. Art Herring won his first game of the year in the opener, while Curt Davis registered his sixth triumph in the nightcap.

Lefty Hal Newhouser, Detroit's 29-game winner last year, won his 10th this season, blanking the Cleveland Indians 5-0 for his third shut-out. Newhouser helped rack up his fifth successive victory by batting in three runs with a double and single. The win increased the Tigers' American league lead to two and one-half games over the idle New York Yankees.

Sox Beat Browns

A four-run eighth inning climaxed by a near-riot gave the Chicago White Sox their second straight victory over the St. Louis Browns 4-1, and dropped the American league champions to sixth place.

The excitement began when pitcher George Caster, infuriated at the riding he had taken from the Sox "jockeys," fired the ball into their dugout as he was called off the mound by Manager Luke Sewell. After players from both teams had rushed onto the field, followed by spectators from the stands, the umpires, with the aid of the police, finally restored order. No action was taken by the officials.

The Chicago Cubs moved into third place in the National league, four percentage points over St. Louis Cardinals, by defeating the Pirates 5-3. Claude Passeau held the Bucs scoreless after relieving Bob Chipman in the sixth. Phil Cavarretta's two-run homer provided the margin of victory.

Washington made it three in a row over the Athletics as Mickey Haefer outpitched Bobo Newsom 7-5. The victory moved the Senators into fifth place.

The Red Sox-Yankees scheduled twin bill was rained out while Cincinnati and the Cardinals were not scheduled.

NAVY ASKS FOR SHIP WORKERS

The Navy emphasized the need for more workers at West Coast ship repair yards in revealing the story of the USS Nashville Thursday.

Round-the-clock efforts of civilian workers at the Puget Sound Navy Yard, Bremerton, Wash., put the cruiser back into the fight again after it was badly damaged by a Japanese suicide bomber.

When the ship returned to the West Coast yard for repairs a serious bottleneck loomed. Only three riggers were available to remove the twisted debris from the cruiser as it was cut away; to set up necessary staging around the hull; and to lift heavy equipment to the dock for repair.

These riggers worked day and night and their efforts got the job done on time. But had more riggers been available completion of the job could have been speeded.

In addition to riggers the Navy yards also need electricians, machinists, sheetmetal workers, copersmiths, radio mechanics and other skilled workers.

Detailed information on how to enlist in the "Battle of Repair" may be obtained by calling on the Civil Service commission representative at the Gettysburg post office or the War Manpower Commission's U. S. Employment office, 20 Baltimore street.

Negro Athletes Win At Milan

Milan, Italy (AP)—The Fifth Army's track and field championships wound up in a runaway Sunday for the runners and jumpers of the 92nd negro division.

William Dillard, overtime Baldwin-Wallace timber toppler from Cleveland, who zipped to a pair of Mediterranean Theater of Operations records in taking 100-meter high hurdles in 15.35 seconds and 200-meter low hurdles in 25.2.

THANKS THOSE WHO WORKED ON WAR BOND ROLL

Grateful for the cooperation and assistance she received in having constructed, erected and dedicated the War Bond Honor Roll in Center square, Mrs. F. K. Schwartz, chairman of the Women's Division of the county War Finance Committee, Friday issued the following statement:

"This roll of honor dedicated on Flag Day, June 14, 1945, was erected with the cooperation of so many citizens that it is really the fulfillment of the words in Lincoln's immortal address, 'Of the people by the people and for the people' and really belongs to the people of Adams county. The boys and girls in our armed services are consecrating this roll of honor in living active service and many are making the supreme sacrifice fulfilling this verse of scripture, 'Greater love hath no man than that he lay down his life for his friend.' They are fighting and dying and buying bonds for us. Can we do less?"

"The purchase of any bond of any denomination will place the name of someone in service whom he or she desires to honor. A letter naming the purchaser will then be sent to that service man or woman wherever they may be, carrying this personal message of cheer and support from the homefront to the battlefronts of the world. So the honor roll has a two-fold purpose. The bonds which are necessary to speed the day of victory and bring these boys and girls home to us and heart-warming messages of faith and love to be received by them fighting for freedom in the far corners of the earth. Buy a bond for a bond with a soldier. Buy now!"

"It is impossible to name every individual, firm and organization who assisted us in this effort. To each and every one I extend my sincere thanks for the splendid cooperation."

ADAMS EXCEEDS SECOND QUOTA IN BOND DRIVE

Adams countians cleared the second of three hurdles in the "Mighty Seventh" war loan drive Thursday the announcement of $657,163.50 in sales of Corporate bonds, exceeding the county quota by more than $7,000.

Several days ago the county topped its quota of $750,000 for bond sales to individuals (except E bonds), achieving two of the quotas assigned the county.

The third quota, that of E bond sales to individuals totaling $700,000, has not been reached and the progress in this effort was markedly slow. Thursday's figures reveal sales of $459,937.50 thus far in the campaign with a little more than two weeks left in the drive.

DISTRIBUTION OF MEAT REVISED IN 10-COUNTY AREA

Warning of a stepped-up enforcement campaign aimed at bringing about a more uniform distribution of meat, OPA Thursday reminded slaughterers of this 10-county district that they must distribute their available meat in the future in the same manner as they did in the first three periods of 1944.

In addition, all slaughterers must, on or before June 30, report to the OPA, the amount of meat, by weight that they delivered to each county or trading area in their first three full reporting periods in 1944. This report must be prepared by the slaughterers to show the average weekly amount of meat that was delivered into each county or trading area.

In commenting upon the new meat order, Walter C. Young, District OPA director, stated: "A large part of the present faulty distribution of meat is due to the fact that for some reason or another slaughterers have changed their normal pattern of geographical distribution. In some cases the slaughterers have withdrawn entirely from areas they ordinarily served and in other cases, they have drastically changed the proportion of available supplies going into some areas."

Equal Divisions

"This new fair distribution plan will not assure each city, town or county that it will be able to get as much meat as it got in 1944. The total supply available for both the armed forces and civilians just won't stretch that far. However, we do expect that the plan will bring about a more equitable distribution of meat, assuring all consumers their fair share."

The new order affects all commercial slaughterers both large and small—federally inspected and non-federally inspected. Three classes are established: Class 1—all federally inspected slaughterers; Class 2A—non-federally inspected commercial slaughterers whose total yearly production of all species is two million pounds or more; Class 2B—all other non-federally inspected slaughterers.

Under the provisions of the order, slaughterers must, during each reporting period, deliver into each county at least 80 per cent (by weight) of the proportionate amount he delivered into that county each of his first full three reporting periods of 1944. Class 1 and Class 2A slaughterers will file their reports of the amount of meat delivered to counties with the OPA Regional Office and Class 2B slaughterers will file their reports with the Harrisburg District OPA office.

ELKS' EFFORT IN WAR WORK IS REVEALED

A resume of the Elks' war activities, presented last week to President Truman, to the Secretaries of the War and Navy and to members of Congress, revealed an expenditure of $1,300,000 by Elks lodges, according to the Elks War Commission, which conducts the fraternity's war program.

265 congressmen, all of them Elks, were presented with copies of the Report to the Nation.

In accepting the Report to the Nation, President Truman praised the war accomplishments of the Elks as "a record of which the Order of Elks and the whole nation can be proud." Said the President:

Lauded By President

"What you have done needs no praise from me. The report speaks for itself. It is the inspiring story of the efforts of seven hundred thousand American citizens in the war, of the eighty thousand of them who have actively served our nation on land and seas and in the air; of the thousand and more who have made the supreme sacrifice. That is a shining record—a record of which the Order of Elks and the whole nation can be proud."

From governors of the States and from mayors of 1,425 cities where Elks' lodges are located, messages praising the war activities of the Elks were sent to Dr. Barrett.

Among some of the many activities, summed up in the report, have been the establishment of more than 400 schools for training young men desiring to take aviation cadet courses; the recruitment of men for the Naval Air Corps, ground crews for the Army Air Corps, and volunteers for the Army Corps of Engineers and the Navy Seabees; the evacuation of children from war zones; the collection of books for the Merchant Marine; the recruitment of nurses for veterans' hospitals, and the establishment of Elks' fraternal centers to provide meals, relaxation, and overnight accommodations for those in the armed services.

Varied Activities

The report tells how the Elks War Commission in cooperation with the subordinate lodges, have promoted letter-writing to members in the services, and have sent gift boxes and supplies of cigarettes and tobacco overseas.

Elks are providing entertainment for more than 150,000 convalescent veterans in hospitals throughout the nation, the report points out. Yet another activity has been the aid given to internees recently released from Jap camps in the Philippines.

Need Replacements

During this fighting, he wrote to his wife and to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. McClure, 214 Keiker street, that the Japs could be driven from Japan "if only replacements and equipment would arrive." Following his capture, he was held in the Philippines until the Japs at last tempted to transport him with other troops to the mainland.

WILLIE JOYCE BEATS FREEMAN

Philadelphia, Pa. (AP)—Willie (The Fox) Joyce, encouraged by a 10-round decision over Dave Freeman of Philadelphia, had his eyes focused today on a July 13 date with Bobby Ruffin of New York at Madison Square Garden.

Beyond that, there was the possibility of a fifth meeting with Ike Williams of Trenton, N. J., with Williams' NBA lightweight title at stake. The Gary, Ind., negro has conquered Williams three times and has stated he won't fight again unless the title is on the block.

Joyce added new laurels before 3,983, who paid $8,898.98 Wednesday at Philadelphia's outdoor arena stadium by his clever maneuvering over his less experienced opponent Freeman, with a four and one-quarter pound weight advantage, 140 1/2 to 136, charged Joyce from the outset and took a surprising lead in the first three rounds.

But Willie's superior generalship—and incidentally a perpetual jabbing left—began to show results in the fourth as Freeman began to weaken, and from there on, except for the seventh round which was awarded Freeman on an alleged foul it was Joyce's fight.

Judge Leo Costello gave Joyce the decision, six rounds to three with one even while Judge Lew Tress and Referee Charley Daggert each awarded Joyce five rounds to Freeman's four with one even.

Letters To The Editor

5 June 1945

Dear Sir:

I am writing you a few lines to thank you for the fine service I have been getting on The Gettysburg Times here in France. I have been in France now for eight months and I have been receiving a paper at least every three or four days. I sure do appreciate this service very much as I find out about a lot of my friends in the service through it. I have been able to find out a lot of my friends' addresses through the paper. Today I met Lt. Crawford Withrow who is from G-Burg. There used to be eight of us from Gettysburg in this company but so far the infantry has taken half of us. It sure wasn't a nice way to see them go but we know they went for a good cause. We are stationed in Reims where the Germans signed their unconditional surrender. We have been stationed here ever since we came to France. It is a great thing to know that the war is over on this side. Now all we are hoping is that we can come back to good old Gettysburg and start life all over again. The only thing that blacks out our hopes is the Pacific. There is a big fight yet to come over there and it won't be an easy one. But being a soldier I have complete faith in our boys and know that they will come out on top. A month or so ago I visited Paris and I just can't describe how wonderful it was. While I was there I happened to run into Sgt. Paul White who used to work under Sgt. Strohm at the college. I am at the present holding down a clerk's job in our orderly room. It really is a fine job and it keeps me in practice in typing. Well I suppose I will have to bid you all in Gettysburg "bon soir" and hoping to soon return to the old home town real soon. Again I want to thank you for the Times.

I remain
